Sid's Unfortunate Future

Sid's Unpleasant Future

Once Andy left for college Sid had nobody to bully anymore. He resorted back to burning toys' to even get excited with his life, but that excitement soon wore off. After a month of of doing nothing with his life he finally decided to do something with his life, to finally get a job. Sid applied for many jobs including Al's toy barn but he didn't get an interview there. On one lucky spring afternoon he received a phone call from the local garbage company, they wanted to interview him. At that moment Sid realized he needed to mature fast, he had to stop wearing his infamous faded black skull shirt. He looked at the shirt for a long while feeling a sense of nostalgia remembering all the memories he's had while wearing the shirt. Sid tossed it in the trash can. The day of the interview Sid got all dressed up in a suit & finally did something with his hair! Long story short he got the job. After a few months of being on the job he saved up a decent chunk of money to buy himself a car so he can commute wherever he pleased. Sid drove to Pizza Planet to have some fun he met a nice young girl by the name of Emily. You could say it was love at 1st sight, They immodestly attached and started hanging out all the time.

5 months later they were still in the honeymoon stage for their anniversary they'd go to a fancy restaurant to celebrate. He was making plans with her through text messaging, but he was driving at the same time he was more focused on his phone instead of the road! He made a sharp turn and rear ended a car! Thankfully he was wearing a seatbelt but his head was slammed on the steering wheel and busted his lip he slowly got out of the car to check the people he hit. What he saw was horrifying! He saw a women's body all contorted she wasn't wearing a seat belt. In the passenger side he saw a young boy with red hair , his head was split open but he was alive but severely injured possibly paralyzed. Sid called the ambulance & police. Immodestly Sid was hauled off to jail.

Sid had to go to court and explain himself to the judge. Since he was texting when the accident occurred he was sentenced to 14 years of jail with passivity of parole after 6. Once Sid was in prison he had to cope with the new prison lifestyle. Sid was always a scrawny kid so he was one of the smaller inmates in his cell block. He was always the victim all the other inmates took advantage of his smaller build and physically abused him for what he did to the boy with red hair and the woman. Sid also suffered from PTSD so he frequently had night terrors it was difficult for him to sleep at night. A combination of mental & physical abuse took a toll on him. He saw no point of living while being treated and feeling like this. He decided to commit suicide. Later that night Sid he stood on the top bunk and decided to hang himself with his shoe strings.
